Guernsey Road
The Judge and I
Wonderful Arkansas

Editor The Star: I have been reading the recent letters to you concerning the railroad crossings in Hope. I have been over every one of them and I want you to know that they are not nearly as rough as the whole road to Guernsey after leaving No. 353.

You always like to be helpful, and I think you would do our people a good deed by picking up the County Judge and driving out to the Guernsey School. Yours truly,

MRS. CAROL MARTIN
Dec. 18, 1972
Route Four
Hope, Ark.

It just could be that I'll do that. Of course the judge and I will first have to find a time that is mutually convenient.

Secondly, we would want assurance that the road isn't actually dangerous. If we went out and didn't come back it would be a great loss in brain power.

If I appear facetious you can blame it on the muddy months I have lived on S. Main St. while road-builders go through the slow-motion technique of widening the street, moving utility poles, and digging such prodigious ditches that you wondered if what started out to be storm sewers wasn't really the beginning of a subway.

If I report to you there is an underground growl among the householders of S. Main that is the understatement of the year. I, having a newspaper, am somewhat more vocal in complaints to the city—but the sharpest printed laments fall on the deafest official ears.

All I can do for my letter writer is to point out that the judge will probably read this and if he chooses to invite me to drive to Guernsey I'll go. The next battle would be when the two of us tried to agree on what kind of a report I should write. It's entirely possible a committee of two could come up with two dissents.

Back yonder I tossed off a mere mention of a rough railroad crossing in Hope. Ever since then the air has been filled with complaints against all town crossings and some county roads as well. A cynical observer might suspect I did it deliberately to build up material for this column. The fact is, editors are always making casual remarks, and are startled when they discover they've stumbled on a public sore spot.

But if publicity will help, I've done my best.

One of the wonderful things about our section of America happened Monday night. As twilight came on the thermometer stood at 32, headed for a hard freeze. But at midnight the reading was 51—a tropical wind was blowing out of the South, reminding that we are only a little over 300 miles from the Gulf.

Harry Truman growing weaker

By F. RICHARD CICCONI
Associated Press Writer

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Former President Harry S. Truman remained in very serious condition today, but a hospital spokesman said he seemed more alert after spending a restful night.

John Dreyes, hospital spokesman, said Truman "follows people's movement with his eyes, but has not spoken to them."

Kidney output had increased and during the past 24 hours it was 400 cubic centimeters, which Dreyes described as "a favorable sign."

However, the spokesman added the kidney output remained inadequate.

Heaviest VN attack is also costliest; 3 US planes lost

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. planes made the heaviest attack to date on the Hanoi-Haiphong area during the night, but it also was costliest to the United States.

The U.S. Command reported two B52 heavy bombers and an F111 fighter-bomber lost and eight American fliers missing. Hanoi said six of the missing men — the crew of one of the B52s — were captured and presented at a news conference in the North Vietnamese capital a few hours later.

Seven other American airmen were rescued in Thailand, the U.S. Command said.

North Vietnam charged that nearly 100 civilians were killed or wounded in attacks on Hanoi and its suburbs. But it said President Nixon's attempt to bomb it into submission would not force it to accept his peace terms.

Hanoi claimed that three B52s and three fighter-bombers were shot down and said a number of the fliers were captured. The U.S. Command said it had no additional losses to report for the time being, leaving open the possibility that other American planes may have been lost but the search for the crewmen is still under way.

It was the heaviest one-day loss in men and material that the United States has suffered in the air war. The two B52s and the F111 cost a total of $31 million.

Although the U.S. Command withheld most information about the resumption of the air war north of the 20th parallel, one senior American official said hundreds of planes took part in the raids, and some targets in the Hanoi-Haiphong industrial complex were hit for the first time in the war.

There were indications that more than 100 B52s, or most of those available, were used. For the first time in memory, the U.S. Command today gave no information on B52 strikes in South Vietnam, Cambodia and Laos. A spokesman refused to say whether this meant the entire force had been shifted to the attack on North Vietnam.

The U.S. Command also reported less than 200 U.S. fighter-bomber strikes in South Vietnam Monday, about half as many as usually are flown. This indicated a major diversion of the smaller aircraft also to the attack in the North.

Authoritative sources reported a fifth aircraft carrier was operating in the Tonkin Gulf, in addition to the four normally there. This increased the fighter-bomber force further.

Military sources said President Nixon had ordered the shutdown on official information about the attacks.

The Command did announce that U.S. Navy ships had resumed surface gunfire attacks north of the 20th parallel but gave no details.

One of the B52s went down 30 miles northwest of Hanoi with six crewmen missing, the command said. It was the first B52 to crash on North Vietnamese territory.

The other B52 limped back to Thailand, like the B52 that was downed in November, and crashed 100 miles southeast of the Udorn Air Base. Its seven crewmen bailed out and were rescued.

The F111 crashed about 50 miles southwest of Haiphong, the U.S. Command said, and its two crewmen were listed as missing. It was the fifth one of the controversial bombers lost since they returned to combat in Vietnam nearly three months ago.

A high-ranking South Vietnamese official said the renewal of air attacks on Hanoi and Haiphong after a two-month suspension "is an effort to show the American determination to negotiate from a position of strength and also to persuade us that the Americans will never let us down and we can trust them and join in signing a peace agreement."

The White House said the bombing was ordered by Nixon "cope with another enemy buildup" and forestall a possible enemy offensive in South Vietnam.

The White House said the bombing was ordered by Nixon "cope with another enemy buildup" and forestall a possible enemy offensive in South Vietnam.

Truman's liquid intake has been restricted to 1,000 cubic centimeters — about a quart — a day to prevent fluid buildup.

"Fluid in the entire body is related to the kidney function. If the kidney doesn't work, fluid collects in the lungs, the blood plasma, everywhere," the spokesman said.

Truman also has difficulty in absorbing the protein from his liquid tube feeding. Newsman asked if this problem, coupled with the reduced amount of protein he is being given, would result in inadequate nourishment.

John Dreyes, the hospital spokesman, said he could not answer the question.

"It's all related," Dreyes said. "The hardening of the arteries diminishes the blood supply and weakens the heart. The kidneys need 30 per cent of the body's blood to keep them working and when they don't get it, they are damaged."

Dreyes was asked what, with complications of heart, lungs and kidneys, is keeping Truman alive.

"It's President Truman, I guess. Even the doctors can't answer that," he said.

The fluid in Truman's lungs has not increased, the hospital said. It was lung congestion and bronchitis that resulted in the 33rd president's hospitalization Dec. 5.

The awe of Christmas

Three wide-eyed first year students from Beryl Henry Elementary School focused their attention on a real-life, dancing Santa in hot pants while on a visit to the nursing home at the Hempstead County Memorial Hospital. The children, in addition to visiting the residents of the nursing home and talking to Santa, sang Christmas carols.

APOLLO SEVENTEEN Splashdown!

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — The last Apollo came home today, ending with a splash in the South Pacific seas the program which put 20th century man on the moon.

American astronauts Eugene A. Cernan, Harrison H. Schmitt and Ronald E. Evans returned to earth at 2:34 p.m. EST after completing the last, longest and most scientifically productive of Apollo lunar exploration.

Helicopter from the recovery carrier Ticonderoga quickly hovered over the Apollo 17 craft and Navy frogmen leaped into the water to assist the astronauts into a life raft. The seas 400 miles southeast of Samoa were gentle; the weather perfect.

The spacemen were to be plucked from the raft and taken to a red-carpet, brass hat welcome on the Ticonderoga.

Apollo 17 is the final flight in a $25 billion program created to boost American prestige and carried out as a scientific exploration for all men. The program ends three years, five months after first putting 20th century man on the moon.

Mission Control had to play "Anchors Aweigh" and the "Star-Spangled Banner" twice before awakening the crew at 8:03 a.m. EST, 10 minutes behind schedule.

"Hey, Houston, this is America, that's mighty fine," Evans finally responded.

"We're all set for you to come home today," answered scientist-astronaut Bob Parker from Mission Control.

"We're all set, too," Evans said. "We've been waiting a long time for 'Anchors Aweigh'."

The recording then was played again as the crew began eating breakfast.

The spacecraft was 50,634 miles from earth with a speed of 6,073 miles an hour.

Helicopters from the carrier will hover over the Apollo 17 command ship, America, after it blazes through the atmosphere and then floats to a splashdown under three huge parachutes. The astronauts will be plucked from a life raft and taken to the ship for a brass hat welcome.

On their last night in space the crewmen held a televised news conference, answering 13 questions relayed from reporters by Mission Control. During the program, geologist Schmitt said that while on the moon he and Cernan sampled "a broad spectrum of lunar history" and "increased the perspective for the future of mankind in the solar system."

The return of America completes a journey to the Taurus-Littrow valley of the moon after departing from Cape Kennedy, Fla., at 12:33 a.m. EST Dec. 7. The mission, despite a computer problem which delayed launch two hours and 40 minutes, has gone smoothly with no serious problems.

Cernan, a 39-year-old Navy pilot on his third space mission, and Schmitt, a Harvard-trained geologist and the first American scientist in space, spent 76 hours on the moon's surface, the 11th and 12th men to perform the deed.

They conducted three excursions, using an electric car, and covered more than 20 miles of the moon's surface. They visited a variety of topographical features and discovered a patch of orange soil near what may have been the mouth of a volcano dead about 100 million years. They also gathered rocks, fallen from a mountain top, which may be older than any ever before examined.

Evans waited in space while his crewmates explored the moon and added to the Apollo 17 discoveries by sighting orange soil and rock from a 70-mile orbit.

A preliminary report issued Monday by geological scientists at the space center in Houston praised Schmitt and Cernan work as having "thoroughly exploited the potential at the Peace: Turning back the diplomatic clocks

WASHINGTON (AP) — By resuming the intensified bombing of North Vietnam, President Nixon has turned back the diplomatic clock by eight months.

The White House said Monday the Vietnam peace talks are "still wide open." But it was also made clear that bombing will continue north of the 20th parallel of North Vietnam "until such time as a settlement is arrived at."

Last May 8, Nixon announced that North Vietnamese ports would be mined and rail and communication lines leading from China would be heavily bombed.

As the secret peace talks between presidential adviser Henry A. Kissinger and North Vietnam's Le Duc Tho seemed to make some progress, Nixon ordered the bombing restricted to the area below the 20th parallel, still in North Vietnam, but close to the border with South Vietnam.

The effect of Monday's announcement then is to move the U.S. position back to May when Nixon said the talks in Paris had drawn from the North Vietnamese only "bombastic rhetoric and a replaying of their demand for surrender."

Then, as now, the public defense of the bombing was presented as a means of saving the lives of U.S. pilots and other Americans still in Vietnam. White House Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said Monday, "We will not let peace talks be used as a cover for another Communist offensive."

Nevertheless, diplomatic sources do not believe that the U.S. talks with Hanoi are completely washed out or broken down beyond repair. They use the term suspension rather than breakdown.

But it appears clear that the same issue which has always dogged the peace talks has again come between peace and an end to the fighting: the political future of South Vietnam.

In the agreement that Kissinger and Tho were preparing, for example, the future role of the demilitarized zone at the 17th parallel, the future of North Vietnamese troops in the South, the infiltration of the South, the sovereignty of the Saigon government below the 17th parallel and the diplomatic standing of South Vietnam in the world were all issues.

Sen. George McGovern hit upon the political issue in criticizing the bombing renewal as evidence the administration "is chained to a government in South Vietnam that is determined to sabotage any chance for peace."

Both McGovern and the National League of Families of Prisoners of War said Kissinger and Nixon had raised false hopes for saying "peace is at hand," a remark Kissinger made Oct. 26 when a cease-fire agreement seemed near.

Noting hopes had been raised that some prisoners would be home by Christmas, the League said, "It is a bitter prospect and the disappointments and frustrations are severe."

Lavelle says Creighton knew of raids

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. John D. Lavelle told congressmen last summer he discussed unauthorized air strikes on a MIG airfield and on enemy trucks with Gen. Creighton Abrams before he ordered them.

According to the hearing transcript released Monday, the ousted U.S. air commander did not testify that Abrams, then commander of U.S. forces in Vietnam and now Army chief of staff, approved the raids.

But he testified under oath: "Some of these strikes my superior absolutely knew."

Abrams has denied knowledge of the exact nature of the raids.

Lavelle's June 12 testimony was released by the House armed services investigating subcommittee Monday along with a report concluding that Lavelle's air strikes just before the 1968 bombing halt was lifted last spring "were not only

Glasgow to get his car

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Roger A. Glasgow, former deputy state attorney general, said Monday his car that was seized in August has been returned to him.

The car was confiscated by the federal Bureau of Customs at Brownsville, Tex., Aug. 24, after inspectors found nearly 24 pounds of marijuana under the car's rear seat when Glasgow was returning to the United States from a trip to Mexico.

Glasgow was charged in the incident, but was acquitted in October. The Customs Bureau notified him by letter Nov. 14 that it found no reason to return the car.

Glasgow said he appreciated the help of Rep. Wilbur D. Mills and Sen. J. W. Fulbright in persuading the Customs Bureau to return the car.

However, he said he hoped to pursue a pending lawsuit challenging the federal law that permits the forfeiture of vehicles carrying contraband regardless of the guilt or innocence of the owner.

proper, but essential." Lavelle testified that he told Abrams specifically of strikes on the Dong Hoi airfield in North Vietnam and on anti-aircraft missiles and related equipment including trucks and vans.

"I knew I was going to lose a gunship eventually if I let them (the new missile sites) in," Lavelle testified. "I told him (Abrams) I was going to have to get them."

In its report, the subcommittee took no stand on whether Lavelle's actions violated the fundamental rule of civilian control of the military.

"Gen. Lavelle's efforts to give his pilots a fighting chance against the improved enemy system were not only proper but essential," the subcommittee said in a report released Monday.

The subcommittee criticized the restrictions placed on commanders during the period which permitted only "protective reaction" strikes when aircraft were attacked or detected enemy missile-linked radar. The rules were dubbed one of the most "peculiar aspects" of the war.

Gen. John D. Ryan, Air Force chief of staff, told the subcommittee he fired Lavelle as commander of the 7th Air Force in Vietnam for going beyond "protective reaction" with orders for 28 pre-planned air strikes.

But the subcommittee headed by Chairman F. Edward Hebert, D-La., sided with Lavelle's explanation that when the North Vietnamese tied their national alert radar network, it had to be assumed they constantly activated against U.S. planes and thus were subject to more general U.S. air strikes.

While suggesting that Washington should have approved Lavelle's raids, the report speculated that the secrecy surrounding Lavelle's dismissal could mean someone higher than Lavelle had approved the raids.

landing site and met the highest standards for scientific exploration."

They said the finding of the orange soil could lead to radical changes in concepts about lunar history.

In the news conference televised from their speeding spacecraft, the astronauts Monday described their lunar adventure.

"On this last Apollo flight," said Schmitt, they had hoped "to find some of the oldest and also some of the youngest rocks on the moon ... I think we did that."

He said the orange-colored soil they discovered "was reminiscent of alterations caused by hot water or hot gases on earth

... That does not necessarily mean it has to be volcanic. But the process would be related in that it was of internal origin."

If Schmitt is correct, the orange soil will be the samples from a period of moon history perhaps as recent as 100 million years ago, a period considered recent in terms of planetary evolution.

It would also end the belief of many scientists that the moon became geologically dead about three billion years ago and prove that it continued to evolve until a much more recent time.

Cernan, speaking on the theme that Apollo 17 is "only the beginning," said that although man may not return to the moon in this century, "we will continue into deep space."

Then he added that the "real challenge of the future for all peoples on earth is to weld themselves into a coherent group and enjoy the knowledge of future exploration."

Boyle resigns as head of UMW

WASHINGTON (AP) — W. A. "Tony" Boyle has resigned as president of the United Mine Workers union, opening the way for a speedy takeover by the reformers who defeated him in court and the coal fields.

Boyle ended his 10-year grip on the union presidency and his years-long fight against the insurgent Miners for Democracy with a terse resignation before a closed meeting of the union's International Executive Board in New York Monday.

There was no public elaboration by Boyle forces. There had been speculation that Boyle might challenge the election in which reform candidate Arnold Miller defeated the 70-year-old Boyle handily.

The resignation and appointment of caretaker union officers to "effect the orderly transfer of power" appeared to rule out challenges to the court-ordered election, closely supervised by the Labor Department.

The department announced unofficial results Saturday showing Boyle trailing 70,373 to 56,334.

Joseph "Chip" Yablonski, son of slain MPD leader Joseph A. "Jock" Yablonski, said the resignation signified that the beleaguered Boyle faction had "thrown in the sponge and will let the will of the membership prevail without doing further battle."

Yablonski, a principal figure in court battles with Boyle, said Miller could begin his five-year term "within the week."

The executive board also accepted the resignation of secretary-treasurer John Owens and voted full-salary retirement pay for both men, $60,000 for Boyle and $40,000 for Owens.

Miller made a campaign issue of salaries and retirement benefits for the union's top officers, saying he would attempt to cut them.

Promotion for Holt

James N. Holt, son of B. N. Holt of Hope, Ark., has been promoted to lieutenant colonel in the U.S. Air Force.

Col. Holt is chief of the avionics subsystems management with the Aerospace Systems Division at Wright-Patterson AFB, Ohio. His unit is part of the Air Force Systems Command which manages research and development of Air Force aerospace systems.

The colonel, who holds the aeronautical rating of senior navigator, flew 156 combat missions in the AC-119K Gunship in Vietnam. His decorations include two awards of the Distinguished Flying Cross, the Meritorious Service Medal, 11 awards of the Air Medal and the Air Force Commendation Medal.

A 1963 graduate of Harrison (Ark.) High School, Col. Holt earned his B.S. degree in 1967 from the University of Arkansas where he was commissioned upon completion of the Air Force Reserve Officers Training Corps program.

The colonel earned his M.S. degree in engineering in 1964 at the Air Force Institute of Technology (AFIT), at Wright-Patterson. AFIT provides accredited graduate-level resident education for selected military and key government employees in scientific, technological and other fields.

It Takes All Kinds...

DEAR HELEN:
I have a neighbor who is actually afraid to enjoy herself, even if it's legal, moral, whatever. Somehow she was brought up to think that if you covered yourself with gloom—suffered a lot—you'd earn your big reward in Heaven.

She says we aren't put on this earth to have a good time. We must wait, strive and endure, so we can walk the Streets of Gold in joy forever, and all that jazz. She's never "happier" than when things go wrong, as each new misery adds a string to her harp, sort of.

All this I could stand, though she is depressing, but she tries to push her beliefs on me. When she visits, I'm left with the glooms. I can't throw her out; really, she's a good person. But how do I shut off the "suffering Job" act.—FEELING GUILTY WHEN I SMILE
DEAR FGWIS:
Smile! In fact, laugh a lot whenever your sorrowful neighbor starts on her "wait" problem. Pleasant kidding probably won't derail her one-track mind, but she may soon give you up as a disturbing influence. . . someone she'll never meet in the Great Beyond, so why bother with you here in this "Vale of Tears."—H.

DEAR HELEN:
With all the warnings about the dangers of wearing long scarves, you'd think people would be more careful. Yet I still see kids on the ski slopes (older persons too) with scarves trailing in the wind.

The other day I noticed a girl riding double on a motorcycle, and her scarf had pulled down on one side so it almost touched the back wheel. Maybe if you'd say something in your widely syndicated column you might reach people who still don't realize how dangerous it is to wear loose ties (around the neck) that might be caught in machinery.—CAUTIOUS DEARCAUTIOUS

Dancer named Duncan died when her long silk scarf tangled in the wheels of a sports car, breaking her neck. Many men have been injured or killed when their neckties caught in machinery. With long, trailing scarves in high style this year, such accidents may increase unless we're made doubly aware of the dangers. Thus, my warning, added to yours:

If you must wear fashionable neck pieces, you active people, tuck them securely inside your sweaters or shirts. Otherwise the hang-up on the ski lift, or whatever, might be YOU.—H.
DEAR HELEN:

I've been reading about the sex way to reduce—like make love and grow thin. I'm willing to try, but my wife wonders whether I'll need to go on a diet also.—200-POUND HOPEFUL
DEAR 200:

Let's put it this way: you must burn off approximately 3500 calories to lose ONE pound. An average love-making session burns around 200 calories, maybe 150 for married couples. So . . . if you want to lose a pound a week without dieting, well—lots of luck. But your wife may remind you that 150 gonits 3500—23.3 times!!!—H.
This column is dedicated to family living so if you're having kid trouble or just plain trouble, let Helen help YOU. She will also welcome your own amusing experiences. Write to Helen Bottel care of this newspaper.

YOUR BIRTHDAY TODAY

ARIES (Mar 21-Apr 19)
Others of your family may want to make changes that you find disrupting. Don't fight city hall.

TAURUS (Apr 20-May 20)
If you let a bad mood get a grip on you, it's going to make everything seem more difficult.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20)
Emotion and concern may dull your practicality. Take care not to spend far beyond your means.

CANCER (June 21-July 22)
This is one of those days when open opposition results if you make too many demands on others.

LEO (July 23-Aug 22)
Let instincts monitor actions. They'll probably caution you to avoid emotional showdowns.

VIRGO (Aug 23-Sept 22)
You could hurt a friend's feelings by not balancing generosity. Don't openly do more for one than for another.

LIBRA (Sept 23-Oct 23)
Share the limelight if you expect support for your ideas. Temperamental associates won't wait in the wings.

SCORPIO (Oct 24-Nov. 22)
Try not to spend beyond expected future income. The piper must be paid.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov 23-Dec 21)
Joint financial affairs are slightly unstable and could get you uptight, but things will work out.

CAPRICORN (Dec 22-Jan 19)
Arrangements made with others today are more complicated than seem. Be cautious! Look things over carefully.

AQUARIUS (Jan 20-Feb 19)
Assistance won't come easily. Co-workers are likely to lean most of today's burdens on you.

PISCES (Feb 20-Mar 20)
Someone you're very fond of is under pressure. Don't let his—or her—mood upset you.

Hope splits pair

By RICKY FAWCETT
Star Sports Writer

Showing a good offense and a lot of excitement, the Hope Bruins and Bobkittens swept a pair of games from Bradley last night. The Bruins whipped the Senior Bears 65-47, while the Bobkittens overwhelmed the Junior Cubs 48-33.

Trailing 4-3, the Bobkittens' Gary Mitchell hit four straight points, which gave Hope the lead it never lost. Mitchell scored 13 points in the first half to help Hope to a 25-12 halftime advantage.

Both teams had hot and cold streaks in the second half. They mainly traded baskets and 48-33 was the final score with the Bobkittens on top.

Mitchell finished with 20 points to lead all scorers. After a tight first quarter, the Bruins pulled away early in the second period and coasted to victory, 65-47.

Hope's Marshall Scott led all scorers with 22 points and Mike Hobson scored 16. Clay O'Steen also contributed 13 points to the Bruin cause. James Tromell was Bradley's top scorer with 12 points.

Tonight the Ladycats and Bobcats face Prescott in Prescott.

Maryland trails UCLA in AP basketball poll

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Poll results may be gratifying. Maryland basketball Coach Lefty Driesell says, but there's no substitute for victory.

winning and that's the important thing we have to keep doing," Driesell said. "In fact, it may make winning a little tougher."

UCLA, 4-0, on the heels of a 98-67 romp over California-Santa Barbara, received 800 points on first-place votes from all 44 members of the nationwide panel of writers and broadcasters who vote in the poll. Maryland, 3-0, received 662 points and Marquette, 4-0, moved to third with 591.

North Carolina State, 6-0, defeated rival North Carolina 68-61, and moved to fourth. Minnesota, 4-0, assumed fifth place. Long Beach State, 4-0, was sixth and Florida State, 3-1, skidded to seventh.

Southwestern Louisiana, 6-0, was eighth followed by Indiana, 5-0, and Missouri, 7-0.

The Bruins, with 49 straight triumphs, have been without Coach John Wooden who was released from a hospital Monday after treatment for a heart ailment.

Razorbuck fund to be audited

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Two men have been sent to the University of Arkansas at Fayetteville to audit the Razorbuck Fund, Legislative Auditor Orvel M. Johnson said Monday.

State Sen. Virgil T. Fletcher of Benton, chairman of the Legislative Joint Auditing Committee, requested the audit, saying the fund had not been audited previously.

his search for a new coach.

"I have a man in mind whom I'd like," Sullivan said. He declined to elaborate, but here has been speculation that the Patriots would like to hire the highly successful Joe Paterno away from Penn State.

Along with Khayat's dismissal at Philadelphia, Pete Retzlaff resigned after four years as general manager. Khayat, the Eagles' defensive line coach, took over when Jerry Williams was fired as head coach after an 0-3 start in 1971. The Eagles finished strong and compiled a 6-7-1 record but slipped this season to a horrendous 2-11-1.

The Cardinals let Hollway go with one year remaining on his three-year contract after a pair of 4-9-1 campaigns.

The Saints had a 2-11-1 record and a situation which tight end Dave Parks described as one with players distrusting their teammates, a shoddy front office operation, lack of respect between players and coaches and low morale.

Los Angeles owner Carroll Rosenbloom, disappointed with a 2-8 finish and a 6-7-1 record, the Rams' first losing season in seven years, would not give Prothro a vote of confidence, even though the coach has three years remaining on a five-year contract at an estimated $80,000 annually.

There also was unhappiness in Houston, where the Oilers had the worst record in the league, 1-13, and where two defensive linemen have threatened to quit. Mike Tillemann played out his option in 1972 and Elvin Bethea said he might quit "even if they offer me what I want next year."

On the happier side, the play-offs get under way next weekend. On Saturday, Oakland plays at Pittsburgh and Cleveland at Miami. The next day, it's Green Bay at Washington and defending Super Bowl champion Dallas at San Francisco.

Utah Stars get jump on Dallas

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — "It's good to get a good jump on a team like Dallas," said Utah Stars' Coach LaDell Andersen following his team's 146-126 American Basketball Association victory over Dallas.

The Stars not only got a good jump on the Chaps, but they also blasted off to a 22-5 lead, then stretched it to 33-7 before the first quarter was even half over.

It was the only ABA game played Monday night. In the National Basketball Association, Kansas City-Omaha downed Portland 113-95.

"We've really snapped out of the problems that were bothering us earlier in the season," Andersen said.

Willie Wise scored 32 points in the game, while teammates Jimmie Jones and Glen Combs hit 23 and 22 points respectively. Combs contributed four three-point goals.

After the sizzling first period, the Stars and Chaps played on even terms for the remaining three quarters.

The victory was the eighth straight for Utah, which moved within one game of the Western Division-leading Indiana Pacers. The Chaps had won four in a row before Monday's contest. Bob Netolicky and Rich Jones scored 16 and 15 points, respectively for Dallas. Andersen said his squad's hustling in games the past two weeks has been the key to its eight-game winning streak. The victories followed an earlier slump in which the former ABA champions lost nine of 11 contests.

NBA

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Nate Archibald, the National Basketball Association's scoring leader, poured in 30 points and added 15 assists Monday night to propel the Kansas City-Omaha Kings to a 113-95 victory over the Portland Trail Blazers.

For Portland, it was the 11th loss in 12 outings. And for Kings' Coach Bob Cousy, it was admittedly satisfying.

"I didn't know how long it was going to take," he smiled. He noted the Kings' lukewarm shooting in the first half and said the defense got the job done until the Kings leaped to a .725 shooting percentage in the second half.

Georgia Tech wins Liberty Bowl

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Jim Stevens, who started the 1972 season as a third-string quarterback at Georgia Tech and ended it by engineering a heart-thumping 31-30 victory Monday night over Iowa State in the Liberty Bowl, said he just hoped to be a reserve.

"I just wanted to do my job and establish myself as the No. 2 quarterback behind Eddie," Stevens said as he undressed in Tech's steamy dressing room after the game.

Stevens, who was named the game's outstanding player for throwing three touchdown passes, was referring to Tech's regular quarterback for most of the season, Eddie McAshan, who was suspended prior to the Yellow Jackets' last game of the regular season for missing practice.

"I just tried to do my best," he said. "Really, I was looking forward to next year when I knew I'd have the chance to be No. 1."

Tech, which finished 7-4-1, scored what proved to be the decisive touchdown with 11:28 left in the game on a three-yard pass from Stevens, a 6-foot-1, 190-pound junior, to third-string fullback Kevin McNamara. Bobby Thigpen kicked what turned out to be the winning extra point.

But Stevens later fumbled as he pitched out, Iowa State's Larry Hunt recovered on the Tech 33 and seven plays later Cyclone quarterback George Amundson rifled a five-yard TD pass to split end Ike Harris, making the score 31-30 with 1:36.

On a two-point conversion attempt, Amundson, bothered by Tech end Beau Bruce, hurriedly threw beyond the end zone and the score stood.

Iowa State's Johnny Majors, who announced after the game he will take head coaching job at Pittsburgh, said there was never any doubt about going for two after the Cyclones' last touchdown.

"We thought it would work since Amundson's runs on the sprintout had worked and we thought the receivers would get open because they were giving him room to the outside. The receiver was covered momentarily and the rush was a little better than we had expected."

Escalation of the halftime show

By JOAN RYAN

WASHINGTON (NEA) — We study history, the pros argue, because it is a barometer for the future. So it is safe to say that American society, which yawns at yet another moon walk and which has already outgrown 'R' rated movies, is straining the imaginations of those energetic men who put together what is fondly known in sports circles as The Halftime Show.

Once baseball fans had been treated to Bill Veech's fireworks display at every home run, three-ring circuses holding down first, second and third bases, midjets at bat, raffles and giveaways of orchids and nylons to the ladies, well, it was hard to keep those folks in their seats for just plain vanilla sport.

Owners with their fists clenched on the purse strings called Mr. Veech a 'hustler,' but since he started the whole trendy turn to live entertainment between innings, I have to call him a genius.

Art Modell bought the stodgy Cleveland Browns, who had never done anything more memorable than win. Art took the hand-off from Bill Veech and came up with a football doubleheader. Seven hours of football divided by an orgy of fireworks! The fans loved it, and Sunday afternoon television turned to channel-to-channel football.

Spiraling upward, Art planned this year's doubleheader to feature, instead of the second game, the Cleveland Orchestra, Ella Fitzgerald and Tony Bennett. Something for everybody.

Colleges have joined the race for creating a happening at halftime. Only out in the boonies do you find the good old uniformed marching band led by majorettes in white tasseled boots, smiling frozen smiles as their legs streak blue with cold.

Harvard was one of the first to dump tradition, in keeping with its position as the nation's educational leader. In a game with Princeton last year, the Harvard band marched at halftime. Slouched is a better way of describing their stance, but with the aid of the public address announcer, they set out to teach the stadium-bound fans something about the playing field.

"See, how they lined up on the hash," commented the announcer. Still tooting their horns, the band broke rank and ran frantically to the other hash mark.

"Now they are showing you another hash," said the announcer, his voice rising in anticipation. There was more scrambling and the band finally got itself straightened out in an odd sort of formation.

"Looks like some sort of pipe," said the man next to me. A puff of smoke popped from the bowl of the pipe and light bulbs clicked over sophisticated heads all over the stadium.

Get it? Hash? Hashish? So much for college humor.

The National Football League is scrambling to overtake the preppies, and a recent halftime show in Washington's RFK Stadium featured 114 trained German shepherd police dogs with their uniformed, pistoled masters. Tails wagging, the dogs went through their paces: sitting, heeling, starting on signal. A nice neighborhood dog show, until the final moments when policemen dressed as little old ladies, muggers, and purse snatchers demonstrated the dogs' sic-em purpose.

Fangs bared, the animals shot across the field, sank their teeth into the bad guys, bringing them to their knees praying.

Spectators, whistling as much in relief as in appreciation felt like they'd just reviewed the tanks, troops and missiles at Red Square in Moscow. Police power is one thing. But at a football game?

The national TV audience was treated to Joe Gerlach's act at a recent halftime show in Foxboro Stadium in Massachusetts. Joe appeared 100 feet aloft on a platform attached to a hot air balloon. Then he dove head first onto a well padded foam mattress, landing on his back.

There he lay . . . and lay . . . and lay, with the audience stilled with dread. Ah, it's all a joke. He bounced up, arms raised to frantic applause. Those who take football seriously, those who hold their breath until that injured football player finally flails a limp arm or leg didn't think it funny.

In case you are wondering how far this trend for lively and unusual entertainment might go, Dan Jenkins has projected the end result in his futuristic football parody, "Semi-Tough."

In the novel, a Super Bowl game between the New York Giants and the New York Jets features, besides the game, a recitation of the Declaration of Independence, red, white and blue birds flying in a formation of the American flag, a singing of "God Bless America." Plus sky divers, dressed in regional garb and representing each of the 50 states, who land on the field in the order of their statehood. There's a water ballet, a hula dance, an actual World War I dogfight that ends up with the Red Baron's plane blown to bits.

For the finale, a spirited NFL fight song, sung by all 92,000 fans to the tune of the Battle Hymn of the Republic, with the red, white and blue birds still flying overhead, this time forming a portrait facsimile of Vince Lombardi in the sky.

Don't laugh. The time is coming. Maybe this Sunday. (NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.)

Fry is new coach at North Texas

By DENNE FREEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

IRVING, Tex. (AP) — Hayden Fry, who led Southern Methodist to a tie for second place in the Southwest conference this season only to be fired, is the new head coach football coach at North Texas State University, the Associated Press has learned.

His appointment to succeed Rod Rust at the Denton, Tex., school was to be announced here today in a 2 p.m. news conference at Texas Stadium, where the Eagles played their football games in 1972.

Fry, who coached at SMU 11 years and compiled a 7-4 record in his final season, applied for the North Texas job after he lost out last week in a race for the head coaching job at Purdue.

He slipped into Denton Sunday night and met with North Texas officials Sunday and all day Monday before details of the jobs were ironed out.

The hiring of Fry dampened rumors that North Texas, in the Missouri Valley Conference, might be on the verge of de-emphasizing football. The Eagles won only one game under Rust last season.

The professional football ranks are dotted with such former Eagle players as defensive tackle Joe Greene and Ron Shanklin of Pittsburgh and Steve Ramsey of Denver.

The Associated Press learned that a condition to Fry's hiring would be that he would not try to entice any SMU players he had recruited to come to North Texas.

A source at the school told The Associated Press that North Texas did not want to damage any relationship it has with SMU.

SMU appears on the North Texas schedule in 1974 and will give Fry a chance for revenge on his former employers. He is expected to bring several members of the Mustang staff with him to North Texas.

Fry was bitter over his firing at SMU, saying, "I had two years left on my contract, but they did not think about my assistants. They just put them on the street."

Fry made $25,000 a year at SMU and any difference on the low side in his salary at North Texas will have to be made up by SMU.

Rust received $34,000 in his final season at North Texas.

Bullet Bob Hayes:

'I can't work any harder'

By DENNE H. FREEMAN

Associated Press Sports Writer
DALLAS (AP) — "I can't go through another season like this ... not knowing what to expect ... sitting on the bench."

Those were the thoughts of Dallas Cowboy split receiver Bullet Bob Hayes today going into Saturday's National Conference playoff game with the San Francisco 49ers.

Hayes wasn't told Monday whether he or Ron Sellers would be the starting split end for the game.

He said he found out he was going to be the starter for the season finale against the New York Giants last Sunday by "hearing it on the news media."

"Some coaches have their theories about when they should tell you whether you are going to start, but you might be just a little more relaxed if you were told ahead of time you were going to start," Hayes said. "I know one thing—I can't work any harder than I have been."

Hayes flashed the brilliant form of old Sunday against the Giants catching three passes, including an extremely difficult grab in a crowd.

However, Hayes hasn't caught a touchdown pass this season. He's dropped several sure TD shots in an open field.

"Concentration—that's all it is," he said. "Just sitting on the bench you sometimes get too relaxed. You try to do something naturally and you can't."

Hayes said he will talk with Cowboy management at the end of the season about his situation.

"There are some other places (in the league) where I could be of use," said Hayes, who has three more years left on his contract with the Cowboys.

Pro football game of musical chairs

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
While eight National Football League teams began traveling what they hope will be the road to the Super Bowl Monday, many of the others were playing the age-old game of musical chairs with their coaches.

The Philadelphia Eagles fired Ed Khayat, the St. Louis Cardinals canned Bob Hollway and there was speculation the axe might fall on J.D. Roberts of the New Orleans Saints and Tommy Prothro of the Los Angeles Rams.

Meanwhile, the New York Giants, coming off a better-than-predicted 8-6 season, capped by Sunday's 23-3 rout of Dallas, gave Coach Alex Webster another one-year contract while his cross-town rival, 65-year-old Weeb Ewbank of the New York Jets, disclosed that 1973 would be his last season at the helm.

The firing of Khayat and Hollway left three coaching vacancies in the NFL, since Phil Bengtson was hired away from San Diego at midseason by the New England Patriots only as an interim replacement for the ousted John Mazur.

Billy Sullivan, president of the Patriots, left for Miami Monday where he said he would set up headquarters for

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

An estimated 300,000 women were executed for witchcraft in Europe between 1484 and 1782. The World Almanac recalls that the witchcraft delusion of 1692 at Salem Village, now Danvers, Mass., inspired by preaching, caused 19 persons to be hanged. Other witchcraft trials were held in America, but only the participants in the Salem delusion confessed their error publicly.

How do you go about making three no-trump after West opens the six of diamonds and East plays the Jack?

When the hand was played in a team match one South decided on a swindle. He won the diamond with his king, led the three of clubs to dummy's ace and played dummy's four of hearts. East thought for quite a while, but finally played low.

South took his king; ran off the rest of the clubs and the ace of spades and scored the game.

The other South ran off six club tricks right away. His own three discards were two spades and a heart. West's first discard was the four of spades; his second the deuce of hearts while East let go the 10 of hearts as soon as possible in order to tell West about the ace.

West still had problems. He let a second heart go; then the nine of spades and finally a lone diamond. After this series of discards, South's contract was doomed and he went one down.

In the post mortem the unsuccessful South claimed that he had played correctly and only brilliant defense had beaten him while the successful South had just been lucky in that East had made a mistake.

The successful South merely smiled and said nothing.
